The theme for World Alzheimer’s Month in 2018 was ‘Every 3 Seconds’, highlighting to a global audience the importance of recognising dementia as a disease and challenging the stigma that surrounds it. By focusing on the statistic that someone in the world develops dementia every 3 seconds, ADI wanted to emphasise the huge global impact of dementia. This approach concentrated on awareness-raising, with a simple and impactful message that could be shared world-wide. From a survey of 58 members and developing members, 79% used the ‘Every 3 Seconds’ theme.

On 1 September 2018, the first day of World Alzheimer’s Month, we launched our current-affairs documentary, ‘Every 3 Seconds’. The film is available on our website and features some of the truly inspiring work that is taking place around the world in dementia research, care and new technology.

On 21 September, World Alzheimer’s Day, we launched our 2018 World Alzheimer Report: ‘The State of the Art of Dementia Research: New frontiers’. We took a new approach to this year’s report and commissioned journalist and writer Christina Patterson to interview 21 of the leading lights in global dementia research from nine countries. The result is an overview of where we are currently; the hopes, frustrations, barriers, and a cross section of the ground-breaking work being undertaken in diagnosis, drug discovery, risk reduction and epidemiology. Thanks to Alzheimer associations around the world awareness of dementia is improving. These organisations provide support to millions of people and continue to advocate for improving the quality of life for those living with dementia and their care partners. We would like to thank everyone involved in this year’s campaign and look forward to your support for World Alzheimer’s Month 2019.
Campaign Materials

World Alzheimer’s Month posters, bulletins, social media banners and other infographics were produced for the campaign in 2018 and adapted by members worldwide into their own languages and with their own logos.

Campaign materials were made available in English, Spanish and French on the World Alzheimer’s Month and ADI websites.

A Toolkit was developed for the campaign in 2018 which used by individuals and groups to plan activities, attract media and encourage the support of businesses.

Members were generally very positive about ADI’s campaign materials. From a survey of 58 members and developing members, 93% rated the materials provided by ADI 5 (very good) or 4 (good) on a scale of 1-5.
